Telstar girls take 2004 Class C Field Hockey title

By ALISON ALOISIO

After a 25-year drought, the Telstar High School field hockey team won the Class C State Championship Saturday.

The Rebels defeated Stearns High School by a touchdown, 6-0, in a game played at Fitzpatrick Stadium in Portland.

Telstar scored early and often in the first half, tallying goals at the rate of about one every five minutes. By halftime, they had six — believed to be the most ever scored by a single team in a state championship game.

That was the end of all scoring, as coach Gail Wight put in substitutes for much of the second half. A total of 21 girls saw playing time in the game.

The stadium's artificial turf — which the Rebels prepared for by practicing at Bates College — allowed them to show off their stickwork skills, Wight said.

The consistent surface is a sharp contrast to the rough natural field at Telstar.

"The turf really made them shine," said Wight. "They showed what a really good team they are."

At Bates, the team worked on passing the ball and stopping it with "soft hands," Wight said, in order to compensate for the speedy surface.

Stearns, by contrast, tried to play "hit and run" — sending the ball a long distance and then trying to catch up with it.

But a Rebel would always be there to intercept it. "Nothing got past the defensive backs (Jillian Kimball, Lindsey Hart, Jessie Farrington and Liz Rosenberg)," Wight said.

Stearns had only one shot on goal the whole game, and it came early in the first period.

Stephanie Tripp and Heather Gionet shared goaltending duties, as they have all season.

At the offensive end, Rosenberg had two goals and Farrington, Kayla Mills, Bailey Davis and Mallory Brown each had one. Brown had three assists and Mills and Bailey one each.

By half-time, the team wasn't talking about scor-

Election 2004:

Most local incumbents prevail; tax cap, bear questions rejected

Town-by-town tallies below

By MICHAEL DANIELS

On Election Day Tuesday, local voters joined their fellow citizens in Maine and elsewhere in the Northeast — in not the nation as a whole — in picking John Kerry as their choice for the next president of the United States.

And like voters statewide, they rejected two referendum articles, one that would have capped local property taxes, and a second which would have outlawed certain forms of bear hunting.

The tax-cap measure was rejected both statewide and here by a margin of 3-2.

The bear-hunting measure failed statewide a narrower margin, of 53 to 47 percent. Locally, however, it was rejected by almost the same strong margin as the tax cap measure.

In balloting for a representative to the U.S. House, voters here and elsewhere in the Second District went strongly (58-40 percent*) for incumbent

Local Red Sox fans are also celebrating

By ALISON ALOISIO

After a lifetime of listening to Red Sox games on the radio, the moment 77-year-old Alice McInnis of Woodstock had been waiting for finally arrived at 11:37 p.m. last Wednesday.

First baseman Doug Mientkiewicz squeezed the ball for the final out against the St. Louis Cardinals, and Boston had a World Series championship.

For McInnis, the feeling was one of overwhelming relief.

"I didn't want them to have to come back to Boston. And I wanted [pitcher Derek] Lowe to win because he had had a tough season. For him to shut them out — it was wonderful," she said.

Then her phone started ringing. Her children were calling from Florida, Vermont and New Hampshire. "Mother, we're so glad for you," they told her.

After the phone calls, she said, "I had to stay up and listen to people calling in to the radio. I finally went to bed at 2 a.m."

McInnis has been a fan her whole life. Her father listened to all the games, so she did, too.

And the radio has continued to be her preferred way to get the play-by-play. That's because she's generally busy doing something — usually sewing.

"I can't just sit and watch," she said, so she lets the radio announcers paint the picture for her while she stitches away on her sewing machine.

She made an exception last Wednesday, though. "I put on the headphones (so she could still hear the radio broadcast) and watched it on TV. I made that one concession."

Selectmen want the state to look at flooding problem in the Route 26 flats

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen will ask the Maine Department of Transportation to take a closer look at the flooding problem in the "Gaudreau Flats" stretch of Route 26.

The flooding is a perennial springtime problem for residents of the area.

"A lot of people down there are pretty dependent on Geoff Gaudreau to reduce flooding somewhat during spring runoff," Dutch Dresser, chairman of the board, said Monday evening.

The flooding concerns surfaced now in part because of a proposed 14-lot, 32-acre subdivision located along the Taylor-Smith Road.

Al Cressy, chairman of the Planning Board, told the selectmen that several residents of the area had worried the subdivision would ing, straightening, drainage and curbing work.

Much of the drainage and curbing effort has taken place in the village of West Bethel.

"There's still more to do," said Emerson Merrill, MDOT's construction manager.

A particular problem spot is around the former G&T Store, in a low-lying area on the corner of Route 2 and the Flat Road. "There's just no way to get the water out of there," said Merrill.

Curbing placed near the corner should keep the water from draining off Route 2 and the Flat Road onto the store property, he said.

The wet summer also created a few headaches for the contractor, Merrill said, because of the timing of many of the rainstorms.

Route 2 work wraps up for the season

By ALISON ALOISIO

This season's work on Route 2 between Bethel and Gilead will wrap up shortly, and other than a layer of pavement that must wait until spring, the project is on schedule, according to MDOT officials.

H.E. Sargent has the contract for the $7.4 million improvement project, which will be completed next year. The project included widening, straightening, drainage and curbing work.

CHRISTMAS FOR FAMILIES, 2004

To the Editor:
As hard as it is to believe, we are once again approaching the holiday season and Christmas for Families volunteers are looking for donations and help. Christmas for Families tries to help as many children of all ages as well as their parents in the SAD44 area.

We know that this is a stressful time for all of us, but some more than others, and that is why we are here. Last year we assisted 172 children, 57 families.

For the past couple of years people have been asking about adopting a family. Let us know what size family and we try to match them up. We don't give out names or addresses but we give ages, sizes and anything else we have for information that might be important. Anyone interested in adopt-a-family, or anyone wanting to donate to this project, please call me at 836-3600 or 836-3663 and leave a message. I will be in North Carolina seeing my new grand-baby and family Nov. 14 through Nov. 28, but please leave a message and she I send out applications or return phone calls to present information when she gets back.

Please know that this is all in the strictest confidence, even those who get adopted.

Our goal is to complete this project by Dec. 16. We are also doing fundraisers such as selling calendars, a benefit bingo, raffle and food sale at Jackson-Silver Post 68 in Locke Mills on Dec. 5 at 1 p.m. Doors will open at 11 a.m.

OFFENDED

To the Editor:
In response to Kathy Berberion's letter titled "The Bumpkin Factor," I must say I was offended.

She stated voting against bear baiting ... is merely one step along the ethical high road, and in so doing Mainers will take a big step up from the unfortunate, but long-standing image as a bunch of wild-eyed, gun-totin' backwoodsmen."

I am a gun-totin' backwoodsman and proud of it. The wild-eyed part is up to the observer, I guess.

We are the descendants of the people who founded this country, and we are the people who continue to defend this country. Losing the image of gun-totin' backwoodsmen is not a step up, but a step down to the level of the sissified, girly man city slickers who have moved out into the country and now infest so many of our towns.

What gets me wild-eyed is someone moving into my rural environment and calling me a Bumpkin, or saying changing my way of life to become compatible with their standards is a step up.

Lady, gun-totin' backwoodsmen and real Mainers who will accept you if you choose to join us and let you live your life your way if you choose not to, but we will not try to force you to change your lifestyle to take a step up. I guess we haven't become civilized enough to be that arrogant.

Local businesses have donated many items to the raffle table. Crafters from around Maine will be selling crafts. There's something to fit everyone's holiday shopping needs.

Special this year --- the fifth-grade band will be performing at 1 p.m.

We hope to see you at CPS this Saturday. Your support will be greatly appreciated by the students at CPS.

GATHERING OF NEWRY MOTHERS

To the Editor:
I would like to welcome all Newry mothers and former Newry Mothers Club members to our Gathering of Mothers, Tuesday, Nov. 9, at the Newry Town Office at 7 p.m. There will be refreshments and gifts for all in attendance.

Our hope is to rekindle the life of the Newry Mothers Club. I have fond memories of the haunted house at the Poplar Tavern, thanks to the efforts of the Mothers Club. And now, as a mother of two, I want to create warm memories for them and to give them a feeling of community that they can be proud of.

So please join us, come share your memories and ideas with us. Help us breathe new life into a nearly forgotten gift for the children of Newry.

visions, not lands outside the subdivision," Cressy said, "we thought it would be important to convey the concerns of the interested citizens, and perhaps you'd be willing to pass along those concerns."

MDOT is already aware of the flooding problem, Cressy said, "but doesn't appear ready to do too much about it at this time."

Selectman Jack Cross objected to any attempt to blame the flooding problems on the subdivision.

"That has flooded for years and years and years," he said. "Are they trying to blame this on the subdivision? This subdivision shouldn't have anything to do with it. This brook has always done that."

But Cressy replied that the Planning Board's role was to see that the subdivision did not make the problems below it worse.

"As you say they've had flooding down there for years," he said. "Our job is to see that no additional water flows from the subdivision down into that area."

The selectmen ultimately agreed to have Town Manager Scott Cole write to MDOT about the matter.

But Dresser was skeptical about the state agency's willingness to tackle the matter. "MDOT has been only somewhat responsive to the [Parkway traffic light] question over time. Are they apt to be any different about this?"

That, Cole said, was hard to say.

"I don't know if there's a ready made solution to the problem there, he said. "I don't know what one would change in that drainage area."

Residents argue that one factor contributing to the problem is a state-maintained culvert that is prone to plugging and freezing.

"There's certainly a reason that culvert backs up," Bennett said, "— either it's not big enough or it's not properly placed."

"They all seemed to happen Friday or Saturday night," he said.

That left gravel areas opened up for construction susceptible to washouts and erosion. Workers had to be called in on the weekend to get the areas passable to traffic again, he said.

There will not be time to put the final layer of pavement on the road this season, said Merrill. But that's not necessarily bad.

"I'm kind of glad myself," he said. By letting the bottom layers sit and settle over the winter, any frost heaves that develop can be fixed before the final layer goes down, said Merrill.

There is another mile of road left to be improved at the Bethel end of the project. Work on that will get underway next year.

Also still to be done is a 1.5-mile stretch near the New Hampshire border. In that area, motorists may have observed dirtwork on a slope above them on the eastbound side of the road. "We're just getting started there," said Merrill.

Workers are now placing rip-rap, berms, hay, mulch and netting on the site to stabilize it for the winter, he said.

Merrill said other wrap-up work includes putting down a layer of pavement at the ends of property owners' drive-ways to prevent washouts in the winter.

Democrat Mike Michaud over Republican challenger Brian Hamel.

In the local, District 14, race for the Maine Senate, the incumbent also prevailed, with Democrat Bruce Bryant defeating Republican challenger Rob Cameron (53-43 percent).

In the race for State House District 91 the battle was much tighter, with Republican incumbent Arlan Jodrey holding a narrow lead over Democratic challenger Tim Carter as of The Citizen's press time Wednesday.

In District 92 (which includes Andover), Democratic incumbent John Patrick easily defeated Republican challenger Paula Smith.

And in District 95 (Greenwood and West Paris) Republican incumbent Sawin Millett more narrowly defeated Democratic challenger Roy Gedat.

Oxford County voters also picked two commissioners Tuesday.

In District 1, incumbent Republican Steve Merrill defeated Democratic challenger George Driscoll.

In District 2, however, the incumbent was unseated, with Republican challenger David Duguay defeating 10-year veteran Democrat Fredric Kennard.

Jody Pulkkinen of Norway prepares to tally exit poll survey sheets at the Woodstock Town Office Tuesday. She asked every fourth voter to fill out the sheet for the poll, which was conducted by Edison/Mitofsky for such media as CBS, NBC, ABC, Fox, CNN and the Associated Press. Pulkkinen compiled the sheets every few hours during the day, and then placed a call to New York with the results. Woodstock was one of 37 Maine municipalities chosen to be part of the exit poll. This is Pulkkinen's third election serving as a pollster. She previously did the job in Rumford and Lisbon Falls. "It's fun to be part of the process for a day," she said. Later, the poll results will be sent to colleges to be used as demographic information.

Percival wins selectman seat

ANDOVER — David Percival was the overwhelming winner of a five-person race to fill Joan Stinson Carney's seat on the Board of Selectmen. Carney recently resigned because she is moving out of town. The vote count for the candidates was as follows: Percival, 222; Philena Chaisson, 73; Dinne Cutting 72; Laura Hutchins, 66; and Hope Petersen, 44. Percival will serve in the position until the annual Town Meeting in March.

Loan sought for new water system

LOCKE MILLS — Mt. Abram Chalet Association is seeking to borrow $225,000 from USDA, Rural Development to fund the removal of its existing water storage tank and the design and construction of a new water storage facility. Any concerns should be directed to Mt. Abram Chalet Association, P.O. Box 91, Greenwood, ME 04255.

Airport Authority discussed

BETHEL — At its regular meeting Monday, the Board of Selectmen informally offered several ideas for reorganizing the Airport Authority. The list was intended to foster discussion at yesterday evening's (Wednesday) meeting of the authority. Among the suggestions: rename the authority as the Airport Advisory Panel; have three members appointed by selectmen, with three-year, staggered terms; require only registration as a Bethel voter for panel membership; hold a minimum of one meeting per month with the town manager, utilizing a current agenda structure; create or update the bylaws; authorize expenditures in a manner identical to the selectmen, with a $3,500 bid threshold; maintain a "double approval" process for leases, and review the process for elimination of double approval on certain expenditures or agreements; have selectmen approve the annual airport budget; have grant acceptances exceeding $25,000 approved at Town Meeting.

Boy dies in mobile home fire

OXFORD — The Maine State Fire Marshal's Office said a fatal mobile home fire Tuesday morning in Oxford started in the living room. The victim, 7-year-old Shawn Bennett died from smoke inhalation. His baby sister, 11-month-old Andrea Bennett, is being treated at Maine Medical Center in Portland and her injuries are not considered life threatening. The baby was pulled from the burning home by a neighbor, Raymond Reese, who reached through a window and pulled the child's crib close enough to grab the child. The boy was located in his bedroom by Oxford police officer Alan Coffin, who entered the room through a window. Coffin and the parents of the children — Kathy Bennett and Neil Gephart — were treated and released for smoke inhalation.

Fire destroys Woodstock home

WOODSTOCK — A fire last Thursday destroyed the home of Roy and Linda Buck on Route 26. Five people were left homeless. The house was a total loss, but the garage was saved. The state fire marshal's office was called to investigate, according to Jeff Inman, Woodstock fire chief. About three dozen firefighters from Woodstock, Greenwood, Bethel, Sumner and Paris responded. Traffic had to be rerouted for several hours by way of Route 232 and the Gore Road.

Comprehensive planners needed

HANOVER — Selectmen are seeking residents who are willing to serve on a Comprehensive Plan Committee. Selectman Bruce Powell said last week he hopes to find a cross-section of people to represent the town and update the 15-year-old plan. A plan, generally intended to provide guidelines for the future, can address such issues as code enforcement, subdivision regulations, economic development and building codes. Anyone interested in serving may contact the Town Office at 364-8200 or P.O. Box 70, Hanover 04237.

Zinchuk appointed to commission

AUGUSTA — Robin Zinchuk, executive director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce since 1986, has been appointed to the Maine Tourism Commission. She will represent the Maine Lakes and Mountains Region. The commission consists of 24 voting members appointed by the governor to assist and advise the Office of Tourism.

County cuts deputy request

PARIS — At their recent meeting, Oxford County Commissioners cut funding from a request by the Oxford County Sheriff's Department for three new deputies before the proposed budget was sent to the County Budget Committee. The added deputies and other associated costs would have totaled $186,492. But the commissioners cut the patrol budget by $124,838, eliminating most of the funding for the officers.

ATV riders bail to avoid train

WARREN — The narrow escape of a father and son from Massachusetts whose ATV was struck by an oncoming train points up the need for off-road vehicle operators to steer clear of railroad tracks, railroad officials said. Lyle Morris, 42, of Woburn, Mass., and his son Luke, 14, escaped injury Oct. 23 when they leaped about 15 feet from a railroad bridge after their all-terrain vehicle got stuck on the track and an excursion train was bearing down at 45 mph. None of the train's 60 passengers or three crew members were injured. The seriousness of this accident can't be overemphasized," said Jon Shute, general manager of Maine Eastern Railroad. The ATV "came free when we hit it," said Shute, noting that the train could have derailed if the ATV had remained stuck on the track. Instead, the vehicle went flying, landing 120 feet away. Lyle Morris was charged with a civil violation of operating his vehicle on railroad tracks, the Knox County Sheriff's Department said. The ATV was totaled in the crash. Damage to the train totaled more than $10,000.

people, "They could still blow it."

She was thinking back to 1986, when a ground ball went between first baseman Bill Buckner's legs and the Sox lost the World Series to the New York Mets.

She was watching Game 6 of that series with friends. "We had champagne in the refrigerator," she said. When Boston lost, "I just sat there and didn't say anything. Then I got up, got my coat and drove home."

But this time, even though she was preaching caution before the game, "in my heart, I really felt they were going to do what they did," she said.

When the game ended, her phone started ringing, too, as friends called.

"We were just screaming," she said.

Fan Grayson Wakefield of Bethel is only 25, and acknowledges his generation can't complain too much about suffering over the Red Sox.

He doesn't remember 1986, but heard about it plenty from older fans. One told him that his tears still hadn't dried, said Wakefield.

Wakefield's only personal experience with crushing defeat came last season at the hands of the Yankees.

So he rebounded relatively easily, and stayed up this year for all the playoff games, as well as the analysis.

"I had to go to NESN and watch the post-game show," he said last Thursday. "I've had about three hours sleep a night for the past two weeks."

Then there's 90-year-old fan Barbara Brown, who grew up in Bethel and went to Boston to attend nursing school. During that time, she often went to games at Fenway Park.

"When I used to pay 15 cents for a ticket, I never dreamed it would take this long," she said.

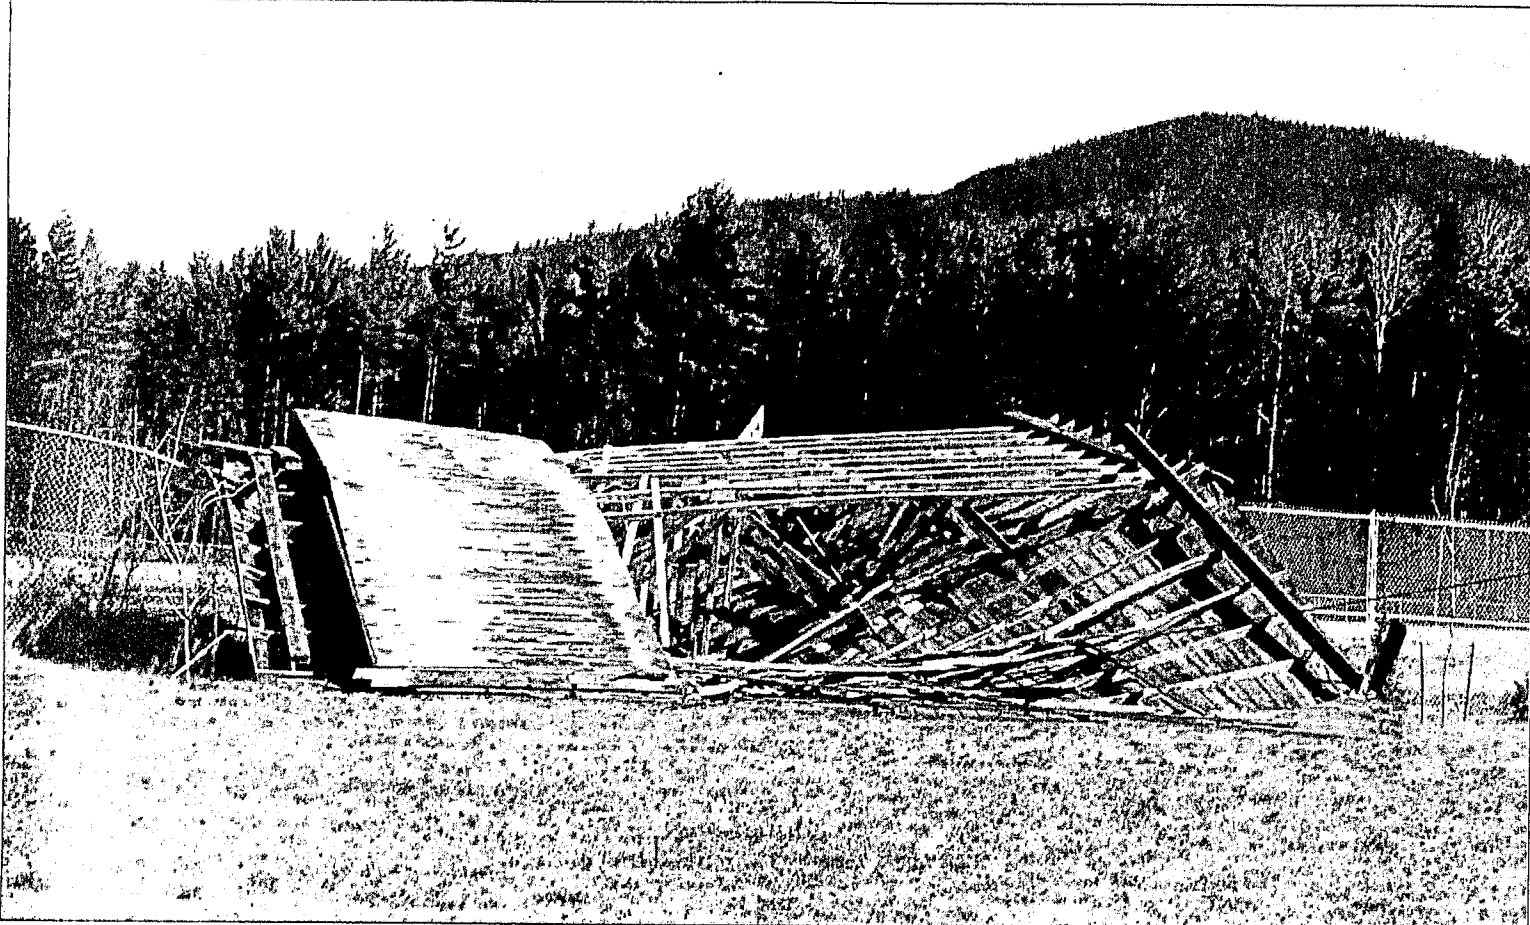

Like McInnis, Brown listened to the radio while watching Game 4 on TV. When the game ended, "I just couldn't believe it," she said. "They'd lost so many times."

And what does she think life will be like now for Red Sox Nation?

"I suppose we'll get over it sometime," she said. "But I don't know when."

ing any more goals on their opponent.

"They wanted a shutout," said Wight. "They talked about playing defense."

She praised the players' attitude and communication throughout the game. "They talked to each other. And they let it be known they were here to play," she said.

Farrington echoed Wight's words. "We all wanted it," said the junior.

Playing on the turf was a pleasure, she said. "It was easy to run, and none of us were tired," she said.

Farrington is one of many underclassmen on the team, a good sign for the future. Of the six goals scored, five were scored by juniors and one by a

The team concluded the season with a 16-1-1 record.

The championship marks the first for Telstar since the year after Wight graduated from the school. The Rebels won back-to-back championships in 1978 and 1979.

Rebels took part in other state competitions Saturday.

Telstar runners Brianne Bailey and Andrew Farrington placed second and 12th, respectively, in the boys' and girls' State Class C Championships races.

Lecture series will explore non-traditional healing practices

(Note: Following is further information on a lecture series about non-traditional healing practices introduced in last week's Citizen.)

A lectures series entitled "Bridges to Health and Healing" will take place the second Friday of each month from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Crescent Park School cafeteria.

The series will be presented by psychotherapists, holistic counselors, massage and Reiki therapists and shamanic practitioners. The group seeks to provide an organized way for people to learn how traditional and non-traditional healing methods can work together.

The first lecture is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 12. The lectures will be free to the public (donations accepted).

Caro Poirier MSW, LCSW, a holistic psychotherapist, will lead off the lecture series with "The Spirit of Self-Healing." Poirier will describe how her own medical crisis led her to discover and develop her own inner capabilities for healing through shamanism.

In her role as a holistic psychotherapist, she offers "spiritually-based practices in a clinical context," she said.

The lecturers in the following months will be: December: Dr. Gary Stuer will speak on "Relaxing the Body, Mind and Spirit with Meditation and Reiki."

"I'll discuss the basics of meditation and its effects on the body," he said. "Using guided meditations I will introduce a couple of easy techniques that can be used immediately. The idea that meditation is only for gurus and is difficult to learn is incorrect. Anyone can incorporate meditation into their daily life."

"I'll also talk briefly about Reiki, an ancient healing technique that is becoming more mainstream in many hospitals across the country. It's most commonly offered before and after surgical procedures for relaxation, for pain management, and in hospice care, helping patients make an easier transition," he said.

January: Janet Willie, massage therapist, will speak on "Journey Through Depression." She will discuss additional resources available to help people through times of despair, such as art, dream and movement therapy.

February: Kary Zywiec, D.Ed., a certified holistic counselor in Gorham, N.H., will speak on "What's Up with Crystals?"

Gems and crystals have different metaphysical properties, she said, and are associated with various energy process points in the body. "Clear quartz and quartz-based gems generate the most energy, and are most often used for metaphysical healing and meditations," she said.

March: Cate Journey, a psychotherapist and energy practitioner, will speak on "The Journey Home." She will describe how to "discover your authentic self through the art of archetypal storytelling," she said.

"Archetypes are universal themes that flow through our individual lives," she said. "Archetypal storytelling is akin to a good snapshot. In the hands of a good photographer, the artist can capture a good likeness with his camera, and so too, a good archetypal storyteller can capture a good likeness of your authentic self."

The "Bridges" lectures may expand to a seminar in the spring, Stuer said. The practitioners will also work on establishing a group identity, and farther down the road, said Stuer, "we hope to forge a partnership with traditional healthcare practitioners."

UMW of the Bethel Methodist Church will meet on Thursday (today) at 1 p.m. at the church.

Dave and Jimmy Bishop, owners of the newly opened Bethel Village Antiques, located at 87 Mill Hill Road, Bethel, are conducting a food drive entitled "Give Thanks! Give Food!"

Their shop will be a drop-off location for the collection of food and non-perishables as well as toiletry items to be donated to the Bethel Food Pantry for gift baskets. Food items need to be nonperishable and within code, and the toiletry items needed are shampoo, toilet paper, soap, cleaning supplies, etc. The drive will run throughout the month of November, as during that month is the time when we all reflect on the things in our lives for which we are thankful, and this is our opportunity to share with others in our community. The shop hours are Thursday through Monday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and by appointment. So take the time to drop in with a can or two and give thanks and give food.

All donations are appreciated. You can call the shop for pickup as well at 824-4525.

Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge played their end-of-the-month game last Friday with the following winners: first, Pete Cummings and Dick Allen; second, Les Buzzell and Woody Mercier; third, Pat and Mike Quinn; fourth, Eleanor Griffin and Jim Dickens; and fifth, Eileen Potvin and Della Starbird.

More and more birds are finding the feeders as fall progresses. We've had three tufted titmice, unusual because these used to be considered birds of southern gardens. The Innans have been seeing a brilliant male cardinal for a couple of weeks, as well as some female purple finches. The weather continues to seesaw from freezing to unseasonal warmth and back again.

Sheila Head reports that she hosted a family reunion at her home on Barker Road on Saturday, Oct. 23, for the descendants of Charles and Phoebe McLellan, better known as the Gilbert family. Of the 45 family members present, the youngest was Caitlin Evans, and the oldest, Arthur Gilbert. When I asked Sheila what they did at the gathering, she replied, "We ate!" There was a large and varied collection of potluck dishes, supplemented with a big ham.

The Westleighs and Pivins attended the state soccer championship game on Saturday to see the Telstar girls win, 6-0. Telstar has not won a state championship since the 1970s, so this was especially exciting. Annie Pivin is a J.V. player and hopes to be a part of the varsity before long.

Carol Everett had an unfortunate encounter with a wood splitter recently. She caught her left hand in it and sustained injuries to her index finger, with lacerations and some fractured bone. She was taken by ambulance to Stephens Memorial, where she received excellent care.

Jane Hosterman relates that the Chapel Aid Society of the West Bethel Community Church will hold its fair on Saturday, Nov. 6. Mark your calendars and plan to be there.

Mike and I recently visited friends in Philadelphia and went sailing with them on Chesapeake Bay for a couple of days. After returning to land, we headed for Cape May, N.J., where we saw the hawk migration, as well as numerous waterfowl, shorebirds, swans, gulls, and terns. Fall color hadn't even reached its peak down there, so it was strange to return home and find most of the trees already bare.

Of interest to parents and grandparents of young girls is the first annual Girls on the Run 5K race and fun run, Saturday, Nov. 13, at Crescent Park School. The 5K Kids' fun run starts at 9:30 a.m., and the 5K walk/run for adults, at 10. Registration fees will benefit Girls on the Run, a program of the Western Maine Girls Association, whose mission is to promote programs that enhance self-worth, foster community, and respond to the needs of growing girls of all ages. For more information, contact Kate Goldberg at 824-3459. I'll be walking, and I hope to see some of you there as well.

On Halloween night we were visited by Mu-Lan and Beloved Princess, aka Ani and Cali Inman. We also greeted two of our grandchildren, King Andrew and Pioneer Girl

Molly Siegel (accompanied by her American Girl doll in matching dress, also Molly). It was a pretty quiet night on our end of the road as the other "spooks" have all grown up.

A Planning Board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on 11/08/04 at the Town Hall.

The agenda is posted at the Town Hall, Town Office and Transfer Station. Contact Jack Pucak at 836-2729 for information related to the meeting. The Planning Board would like to remind everyone that permits are required for most building, plumbing and other work. Applications for such work may be obtained at the Town Office. If there are questions regarding work you are considering, please contact Jack.

The Town Hall has been used a lot this year. One of the accomplishments of the 2004 Gilead Bicentennial Committee was to renovate the hall. Besides the usual business of the town, there have been a couple of birthday parties held there for local children. On Oct. 30, there was a combined birthday party for William and Annie Chapman of Gilead. They are the children of Timothy Chapman and Carole Chapman and the grandchildren of Linwood Cox and Hugh and Lin Chapman. William will turn four years old on Nov. 6 and Annie will be two years old on Nov. 30. It was decided to do a combined party because there were several relatives from Maine and Massachusetts that were planning on attending. William and Annie had a great time playing with their cousins, eating cake and ice cream and unwrapping their presents with the help of their cousins.

The first official meeting of the Gilead Historical Society will be held on Nov. 13 at the Town Hall at 2 p.m. Anyone who is interested and cannot make the meeting can get hold of either Bev Corriveau or me. The GHS is hoping to get

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

When I was a teenager brand new dark-blue denim blue jeans were so "in." They were a bit on the stiff side, but that was part of what made them so cool.

Apparently stiff wasn't quite as cool as the years went by because pre-washed blue jeans became the "in" thing. Certainly pre-washed jeans are much softer and more comfortable than the never-been-washed-before variety.

From pre-washed came stonewashed, which are just a little bit softer and ever so slightly faded. I'm not sure what they mean by stonewashed because I find it highly unlikely that the blue jean manufacturers employ a bunch of people to go down to the local creek and bang the blue jeans against the rocks.

It is much more likely that the denim material is washed at a higher water temperature to achieve the look and has actually not been in contact with any stones at all. But, stonewashed has a nice sound to it and most people probably don't care if their jeans have ever been banged with rocks. A few years ago pre-tattered blue jeans were the rage with the teenagers. Blue jeans were made to look like the ones I used to throw out. Once the bottoms started to unravel and the knees had no place left to iron on a patch, in the trash they went. Who would have thought those denim rags would become the "in" look and people actually paid good money for them.

Now there is a new look for blue jeans—severely faded. The other day I was at a department store and there in the ladies' department was a rack filled with blue jeans with faded fronts. I don't know about the backs because I didn't look that closely, but the fronts were made to look like they had gone through a thousand washings.

Though in all my years I have never seen anything fade quite as symmetrically in such a pattern as that. Leave it to the teenagers to fall for something like that.

I guess I shouldn't be too critical of teenagers considering that it was a teenager who invented blue jeans in the first place. Levi Strauss was only 17 years old when he arrived in San Francisco in the 1850s.

Blue jeans were made to look like the ones I used to throw out.

Already a tailor by trade Levi set up a business of selling canvas to be used for tents and covered wagons. This was the middle of the gold rush era and his business flourished.

Strauss noticed that miners seemed to go through their trousers, literally and quickly, so he stitched some of his heavy-duty canvas into overalls. In spite of the fact that the material was really coarse and very stiff, the pants held up so well that Levi was in great demand to make as many as he could.

In the early 1860s he replaced the canvas with the much softer denim. Denim was a neutral color and Strauss discovered that by dyeing the pants indigo blue the dirt and stains wouldn't show as badly. This was a man after my own heart.

Cowboys of the era loved the blue jeans, but they wanted them to fit as snugly as possible so they would actually sit in a horse-watering trough to soak the pants then lay in the sun to shrink-dry the material on the body. I guess stonewashed isn't so far-fetched after all.

Strauss was a practical type of tailor rather than a fashion guru, but he did make changes to the blue jeans that became as much fashion as useful. In 1873 Levi added copper rivets to the pockets because he noticed that the weight of the tools the miners carried caused the pocket seams to rip.

Strauss also noticed that because the miners spent a lot of time in a squat position as they panned for gold, the crotch of their pants tended to rip out. A rivet was added to this location too, but even though it did hold the seam together, it proved to be quite unpopular.

The miners of that era unencumbered by the etiquette of underwear, found that squatting too near a campfire heated the rivet and caused some pretty serious burns. Ouch! The crotch rivet was quickly abandoned.

Pocket rivets remained in place until 1937, when complaints of a different nature were voiced. By then blue jeans were being worn by boys to school and the back-pocket rivets were scratching and gouging the wooden chairs and benches because little boys have a tendency to squirm around a bit. Thus, the end of the back-pocket rivet, at least for a while.

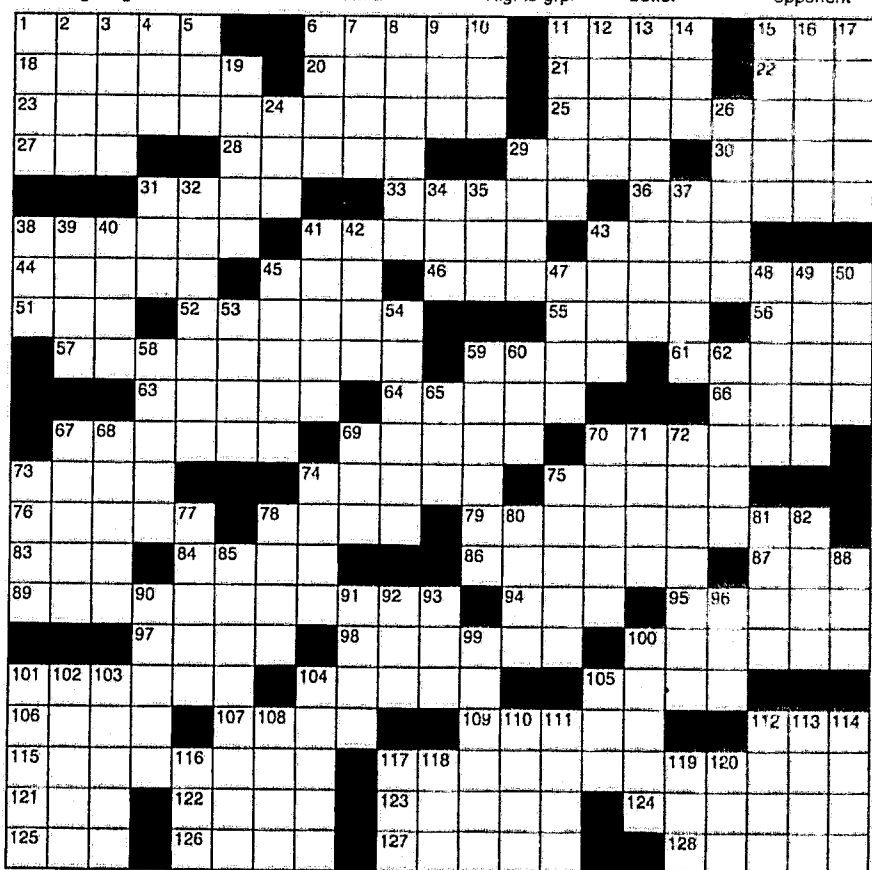

Blue jeans, strictly utilitarian, first became a fashion in 1935 when an advertisement appeared in Vogue magazine featuring two society ladies in snug-fitting jeans, kicking off a fad called "western chic."

That fad was minor compared to the one that erupted out of the designer jeans competition of the 1970s. The humble pants invented by Levi Strauss intended for work became the costume of play, creating a multimillion-dollar industry. At the height of the designer jeans war, Calvin Klein jeans, for instance, despite their high $50 price tag (or maybe because of it), were selling at a rate of 250,000 per week.

The industry has come a long way since Levi Strauss first sewed up a pair of blue jeans, but the way I see it, they are one item of clothing that will never fade from style.

going this fall and start to set some goals. One of the biggest goals will be to locate a building that the Gilead Historical Society can use to hold meetings and to store any articles that are donated to them.

Gerard Dupont, Andre Dupont and Aline Dupont went to Holy Family Church, Gosham, N.H., to attend a mass in honor of Edna Dupont. After the mass they went back to Andre's home to visit.

Steve McLain received an e-mail of a Halloween picture of his grandchildren, Nathan and Marina McLain, Ft. Sill, Okla. They were all dressed up and ready to go Trick or Treating.

der they get sick. Our noble national bird's favorite food is "road kill" and defenseless bunnies.

Evelyn and Jim Kenney have returned from Nova Scotia. The weather up there was far worse than ours.

The hub-hub of the election process is behind us we hope. It will be a difficult four years ahead of us. We will not miss the TV ads. Wouldn't it be great if the media went silent the weekend and Monday before election. If your mind wasn't made up by Saturday you should be deported to Lower Slobovia.

The weather is still unbelievable. Ginny Williamson has a pot of "Million Bells" in full bloom on her porch. Mine are still alive but without flowers. The Kennys have primroses in bloom. The bright yellow and purple looks out of place in November.

It's been cold enough for snow flurries but we haven't had any yet. There was a thin shell of ice on the edge of the lake on Friday. The loons are still on the lake and a flock of hooded mergansers fish the cove every day.

The Planning Board met Saturday, Oct. 30, and granted two permits.

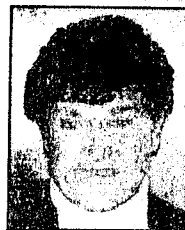

Reports of turkey sightings come in every day. Al Gagnon had a big one in his yard on Sunday. The Williamsons have three regular visitors from three big turkeys. Can Thanksgiving be far behind?

Birds are plentiful. Squawking blue jays, their cousins the Canada jays, male and female cardinals, a lone titmouse, red wing blackbirds, juncos and a lot of other birds take their turn at the feeders.

The chipmunks and red squirrels are getting more food than they deserve. They bury and store as many seeds as they eat.

Take your choice for "Bird of the Week," and may the best bird win; after all it is election week. The birds at my feeder are "middle-of-the-roads." They are neither left-wing nor right-wing, they are two-winged.

Halloween brought six little spooks to the door trick or treating.

Elissa Dyer was the first to arrive as a cowgirl. Garrett and Noah Morton and their cousin Caleb were very scary. Jessica Casey was garbed out as Hermione. Mom made the costume. Little Caitlyn Casey was a unicorn.

Mom didn't make this costume, she found it on eBay. Everyone was very well dressed for Halloween.

Saturday was opening day for deer hunting for Maine residents only. I did not hear any shots, however. There certainly were plenty of hunters out to thin the herd. Obviously, they didn't realize that the herd left last April for parts unknown. They will remain elusive until the end of November.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The Hanover annual Town Meeting was held on Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Under the direction of Moderator Norman K. Ferguson, Jr., the thirty voters who assembled at the Town House worked their way through the 45 proposed articles. Re-elected was the evening's story, as Scott Gould was returned to the Selectboard for a three-year term, as was longtime Superintending School Committee Member Debbie Barlow. Clem Worcester will remain as clerk, tax collector and treasurer for another year. All money budget items were passed as recommended by the selectboard. School Superintendent James Hodgkin explained the school budget. Voters did question the methods of disposing of tax-acquired property, and by vote chose not to discuss proposition #1 in the general election. Attending the meeting were news reporters from the Sun/Journal and The Bethel Citizen.

Earlier the same evening, the selectboard held their monthly meeting, this time at the Town House rather than at the Town Office. The board heard reports from the town clerk as well as Tri-Town Solid Waste and Recycle Center Board Member Bob Fortin. He reported that income from recycled goods was improving. Chairman Bruce Powell reported on a meeting he had attended at the River Valley Tech Center with Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments.

Jim Ray went to the Manchester Airport to pick up his "Cotton Picking Cousin," who had never been to Jim's Maine hideaway. Jim had to return to Austin on Wednesday. Irv and Barbara Robinson are at Rocky Retreat for a while.

Howard Pond is more or less deserted now with only the Macaluso Bear left to greet people as they pass by. All summer the bear welcomed folks while prepared for the summer sun with his hat and dark glasses. And with everyone gone, he didn't even get a Halloween treat.

The Hanover Planning Board will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 10, at 7 p.m. at the Town Office. There are several permits on the agenda for discussion.

North Newry

Thought for the week: "Nature always does her part ... you do yours."

Call to worship was held Sunday morning, Oct. 24, at 9 a.m. at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. Thought of the day by Sue Wight, "You can't glorify yourself and Christ at the same time." Scripture readings by the faithfuls. The message of the day was: "Have Mercy on Me," from Joel 2:32; "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered." A prayer followed, hymn 227 sung, benediction, postlude, amen.

Stephen and Marleen Wight of Old Town, also David and Anne of Milford, have spent weekends with their parents, Bill and Sylvia, enjoying the beautiful foliage season.

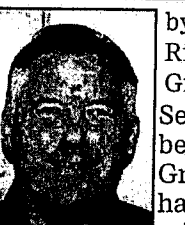

Chuck and Marge Eames, former residents on the Branch, also his sister, Christine, and husband, Bob, of Falmouth, spent an afternoon with Sylvia and Bill. Also at Bill and Sylvia's, Gretchen and Melissa of Waterford spend Saturdays now that Melissa is through playing soccer. She is in the fourth grade.

Sylvia Gray took Karlene Bachelder and Gil Seeley for a ride and lunch Sunday, Oct. 24, to celebrate Gil's birthday.

Thank you, Eleanor, for the lovely birthday card. (When is your birthday?)

Celebrating our birthdays, Betsy and I enjoyed cake and ice cream, gifts, etc., with Donna, Mike, Loretta, Anita, Karlene and Sylvia G.

Mason

by Richard Grover

Several members of the Grover family have been submitting applications for moose permits for years, but this year is the first time that any of them (us?) got one.

My nephew, Rupert Jr., finally got a moose permit for wildlife management area 12 this year. He and his brother Dan spent several days scouting the woods in the local area for moose, both before the season started and then the first couple days into the week of open season. Although there were numerous moose signs, they didn't catch sight of their prey. Finally, on Thursday that week, they spotted a large bull on the pipeline near the Grover Hill Road. Only trouble was, the moose was so far away, he was out of rifle range; luckily, they were able to sneak undetected by the moose about half the distance from the road. There was a rise in the terrain that screened them from the moose's sight until they crept to the top of the rise. Then, they both shot at the same time, fatally wounding the moose. After spending much of the day reeling in the moose with their tractor winch, they had to truck it all the way to Norway to get it tagged.

Although they didn't weigh the moose, it appeared to be a rather large critter, but fairly young, as indicated by his small rack. It was big enough to fill the freezer at the farm with moose steaks and hamburger.

On Halloween night several of the local little ghosts and goblins came out to haunt and trick or treat. Lawrence and Jen took little three-year-old Curtis, dressed as Spider Man, around to several of the neighborhood homes.

At one house, a man came to the door dressed in his underwear, with his hairy chest and arms exposed. Poor Curtis took one look, turned around and walked away. He wasn't having anything to do with that fellow, trick or treat, or no.

One day last week we received a phone call, which at first I took to be some sort of scam or "come-on." A computer-generated voice said something to the effect, "This is a call from Bank One (I think that was the one). We are calling to notify you that we have denied a charge for the amount of $416 (in excess of $400, anyway) made over the Internet on your BJ's credit card. Please press 2 if you authorized that charge. Please press 3 if you did not authorize that charge and hold for a financial agent who will discuss this situation with you."

Soon, a live-person voice came on the phone and asked if I or anyone in my family had charged an amount in excess of $400 over the Internet to a shop in England. When I assured the gentleman that we had certainly not made such a charge, he asked that we destroy all the BJ credit cards in our possession, and assured us that he would mail out new credit cards within the next few days. That we did, and right away, thankful that the credit card company took such timely action on a bogus charge.

Albany

by Dana & Sheila Dyke

Hello and greetings from Albany Township. Autumn is here with its blustery winds, and scattered leaves upon the ground. Thankfully, there is still plenty of sunshine to at least create the illusion of warmth, even though we've all had to turn up our furnaces or stoves to heat our homes.

Firstly, the correct times for the Albany Youth Group meetings are Fridays, 6 to 8 p.m. and, the last Fridays of the month from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sorry to Holle, Fernand and the kids for the incorrect times in last week's column.

We had three (count them: three) treaters show up at our home on Sunday — all siblings with their dad ready to pull them all back into formation when necessary. We haven't seen any signs of vandalism or prankster activity as of this writing.

We hope that everyone was able to get out and vote on Tuesday.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and keep.

Hi readers. Time does not stand still. It marches right along and waits for no one. I had this column all typed up on the computer and then I lost it. So here goes again.

Oct. 21, the Waterford Stoneham Lions Club met at the Stoneham Community Room (at the Fire Station). There were 14 members present. Much discussion and planning was done about the gala charter night dinner and program to be held at Gould Academy on Nov. 20. Anyone interested in joining us, please call Paul Hersey, 583-2515, or Dennis Meka, at 928-2800, or Rickie Hall at 583-4404, right away. Lions Clubs are dedicated to making communities better places to live. They do make a difference and help those less fortunate. Let's help them and they will help us in many ways. The next meeting for the Waterford-Stoneham Lions Club will be at the Bear Mountain Inn at Waterford on Nov. 11, 6:30 p.m. Coffee and desserts will be served.

Tuesday was another day at the doctor's office in Norway. But we found time to visit Wilma Taylor at the Norway Rehab and Living Center. She's always pleased to have company and we always have a good visit.

Monday, I was in Norway for pre-admission tests, etc., for eye surgery for cataract removal and while over there, I went in and visited Loretta Andrews at the Market Square Health Care Center. She looked good and we had a nice visit. Her leg is still being treated.

Oct. 16, Dale and Kitty Nelson took Albert and me to Portland to the Bugaboo Creek Restaurant where we met Cheryl and Paul Barnard, Josh, Jenna and Lindsey who flew there from Seaford, Va. for the day to have dinner with us. Sharon Berman and Nowal Traish from Belmont, Mass., also met us there. Albert Nelson Jr. also joined us. This was to honor Albert Nelson, Sr.'s birthday. It was a wonderful get-together and meal, but you know what? After the meal, he went out to stretch his legs and when the moose and gang came to clap and sing "Happy Birthday" to him, he was gone, so they looked at me and clapped and sang and put the little brown cake with candle in front of me and said I had to kiss the moose. And so I did, but I felt awfully stupid and silly. I'm glad no one had their camera right handy. Anyway, it was a real fun day. Thanks, kids. You're all great.

When you read this, the voting will be all over. Aren't you glad?

Greenwood City

Rena Curtis
Here it is the end of October and November started. Deer season is here already.

Marie Curtis went over to Sumner and got her mother, Iva Bragg, to take her to Norway for an appointment with her doctor.

Fred Curtis visited me for a while one morning. Also, Albert Curtis Jr. and sons, William and Albert Curtis III, came later in the day. I always enjoy seeing them.

Albert Curtis Sr. has been winterizing my trailer for me. He has it mostly done. Thanks Al. Al and Marie Curtis do so much for me. I can't thank them enough. I sure appreciate all they do.

I had oil delivered Friday, or should I say "liquid gold."

Leaves are falling fast now. A lot of trees are already bare.

Brad Payne and Ann Holt had dinner at Bethel Inn Friday night. Ann Holt finally got her Aunt Colista's house cleaned out Saturday. Good job done. Monday, she attended an Education Conference at Sunday River. She is really enjoying the ball games, especially the Red Sox along with some others in town.

Quote for the week: "A new broom sweeps clean, but it takes an old one to get into the corners."

That's it for this week. Have a safe and happy week.

West Paris

by Bertha De-

Our most sincere condolences go out this week to the families and friends of Charlie Hartigan, Ora Ryerson, Sam Redman II and Mildred Bowman Stanley, who all went home to be with the Lord this past weekend. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

Laurie Wilson of Sumner had a cochlear implant surgery, which is an implanted device with an external mini-computer called a sound processor, at Tufts New England Medical Center in Boston on Oct. 15. The processor translates the surrounding sounds into signals that can be sent to the hearing nerves and then recognized by the brain as sound. The processor and implant successfully bypass the part of the auditory system that is damaged. She will, hopefully, soon be able to relearn to hear and recognize sounds, voices and words. Laurie and her family thank everyone who has prayed, sent cards, visited and brought food to them. Continued prayers will be appreciated.

On the morning of Tuesday, Oct. 26, West Paris Grange held their annual flu shot clinic. Assisting me were Pat and Fred Breame (signing people in) and Leland Doughty (who kept the hall nice and warm). Thank you all for your help. We had 112 people show up, all the way from one tiny baby to folks in their 90s. It was a howling success.

On Tuesday evening, Ring McKeen Post 151, American Legion and Auxiliary hosted their annual Halloween party for the Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts. The following costume winners were: Brownies Troop 1496, first place Brianna Willis; second place, Prentiss Kurtz. Junior Girl Scout Troop 1496, first place, Liz Libby; second place, Jessica Mehigan. Cub Scout Pack 133, first place, Chance Roberts; second place, David Diconzo. Boy Scout Pack 133, first place, Nick Diconzo; second place, John Wendell Jr.

We had a good group of both Girl and Boy Scouts. Scouting is a good way to teach our children respect and patriotism. We asked the older scouts to write what freedom means to them. Ten of the older scouts and six of the younger scouts turned in some very good thoughts on freedom and patriotism. Some wrote about our soldiers in Iraq. We as a small town have six of our boys over in Iraq.

The following 10 statements were turned in by Scout Troop 133:

"The definition of freedom is to be free. To make your own choices and decisions. Like the U.S. military is fighting for freedom for Iraq right now."

"A patriot is someone who fights for freedom for their country. They do the best they can for their country and I really respect that they are doing this."

"Freedom to vote, and to move from state to state, freedom of speech. Patriotism is saluting the flag, marching in the Memorial Day parade, respecting our veterans."

"Patriots are fighters of wars to defend the country, with honor and justice for all people. Freedom is to be free, like the United States. Not for only one person, but for all."

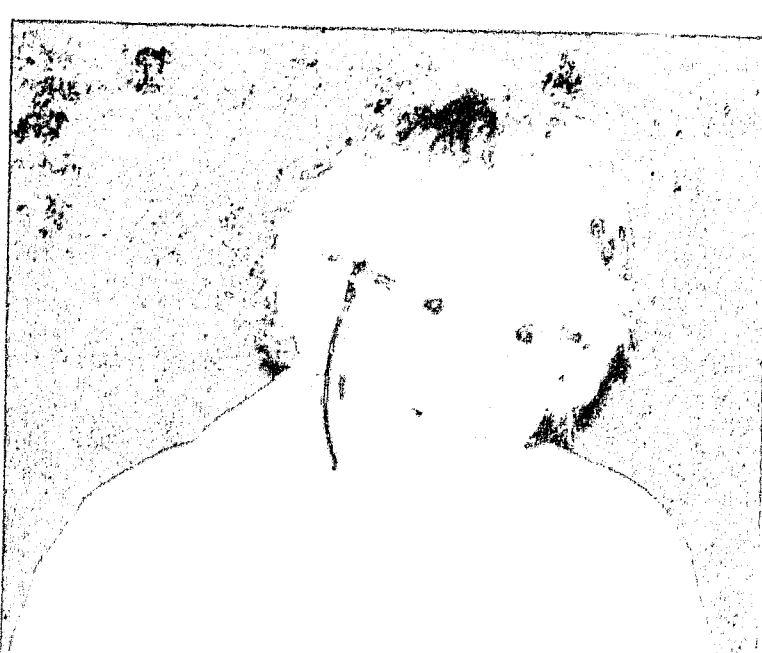

"Freedom is the freedom of speech, you can say anything you want and do anything you want. Patriotism is helping the community and doing good things for other people."

"Freedom is all of our constitutional rights which we value everyday. Patriotism is fighting for what you believe."

"We care very much for our soldiers in Iraq. We know and pray that they will make it out alive and form peace with the Islamic. The qualities in them remind me of famous people, everyday people."

"It must take a lot of courage and heart to be over in Iraq and being shot at, and having the chance of being the next American casualty. If I had to go to Iraq and fight, I would go and fight with honor. I would be proud to defend my country."

"To stand up for freedom. To respect the laws and our Constitution and services. To be grateful of what we have today. To believe in your country. To say your own opinion. To do whatever is good without restrictions. To have your own ways and beliefs. And to not worry about what you can do and what you can't do."

Patriotism to me is to be in a war to defend our rights and freedoms. Patriot is a fighter who defends the US. Freedom is to be free. Like the United States of America. Freedom is a constitutional right because everyone is free in a way.

Freedom is free because there is no 'I' in freedom. I'm proud to be an American, where at least I know I'm free, and really can't forget the men and women who died, who gave the right to us to be free, and I stand straight and tall, to be who I am destined to be. And that is an American. Home of the brave. Never forget 9/11."

Writings on Freedom and Patriotism by Cub Scout Troop 133:

"A patriot is a person who is willing to risk his life for freedoms. Freedom is the right to choose."

"My grandfather served in the Navy. He is a veteran."

"Patriotism is giving up your life for your country. Freedom is being free for your life."

"Freedom is something that we go to war for, and it is called patriotism. My dad was in the Vietnam War."

"Patriotism means to fight for what you believe in, Freedom."

"Freedom means that you can make your own decisions. Patriotism means that you are willing to give your life for what you believe."

Boy Scout Troop 133 went to the fall camporee in Farmington. A total of 434 Boy Scouts attended this event. This was a joint camporee involving two districts.

While there, they enjoyed biking, hiking, ham radios and rocket launching. Troop 133 had 11 boys and three leaders attending. This all occurred Oct. 15, 16 and 17. A good time was had by all.

The Agnes L. Gray School news is as follows: The State Coach Theatre Troupe will be at the school the first week in November, putting on "A Midsummer's Night Dream" during the day on Friday, Nov. 5, and on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 6, at the school gymnasium.

There will be no school on Thursday, Nov. 11, as this is Veterans Day. I would like all the adults and children who can and will to meet me in the parking lot of the Agnes L. Gray School at 10:30 a.m. and march to the monument in the square to observe Veterans Day with a service. I appreciate all of the help you will give to this endeavor.

Registration for Agnes L. Gray basketball teams is due the week of Nov. 8.

Please watch for more news on the "Read Street" book fair to take place during conference week (the first week of November).

The Tin Can Alley Redemption Center's winter hours are as follows: Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. according to the weather.

See you all next week.

MIDWESTERN WINS QUILT
Each year, the Cross-Country Quilters donate a handmade quilt to be raffied off as a fundraiser for the Bethel Library. For the first time this year, someone from outside the Bethel region won the raffle. Carol Esther of Springfield, Mo., shown here with her children and the quilt, was the winner. Another donated craft item, a wall hanging made by Mabel Kennett, will be auctioned in a Silent Auction Dec. 1, again to benefit the library.

We are having mostly frosty mornings. I appreciate a garage so that I don't have to scrape the auto windows. I just watch the neighbor scrape hers. Most of the colored leaves have fallen making a deep blanket on the side lawn.
At the West Paris Universalist Church on Sunday, Nov. 7, the Rev. Joy Gasta will speak on "Veteran's Day Nov. 11, and Steven Bunker Saturday. John and Linda Stevens of Dallas Plantation had supper with Vince and Beverly Stevens on Thursday. Jude Lamb of Lamoine visited with her mother, Joyce Lamb, on Sunday and looked over pictures for her family tree. Kyra and Gene Flarhity and daughter Molly called. All went to church to greet Brad Greely and Cathy. The Rev Greely was minister here in 1965 and 1966. A brunch followed with a good attendance. Buffy is more white than yellow right now. His winter coat is filling in. It should darken out during the winter. He should be warm this winter with a new fur coat.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham
By the time you read this, we should know the results of all the elections and referendums. Our airways may be quieter than they've been in months. Of course, we do all remember four years ago when we didn't really know the results for months. Let us hope that is not the case this time.
Halloween was a bit quiet around here, but we did have some trick or treaters. We had a pink poodle, a princess, a cheerleader, a ghoulish looking outfit, a trick or treat with colorful hair who might have been a clown, one who looked like Davy Crockett or someone else from the Alamo, a batman and a witch. There were others that I didn't see or have forgotten. All seemed to be having a good time. Now what shall I do with the leftovers? I may try to bring them to the transfer station if I can be trusted not to eat the candy. On Sunday, I had dog biscuits in one pocket and candy in the other.
Next Tuesday, Nov. 9, there will be a public hearing open to all Waterford residents at the Waterford Municipal Building to discuss possible fees to be assessed at the transfer station. The fees would be to try and recap some of the losses of last year and prevent them next year. The proposed plan is to assess items the town must now pay to dispose of, for example: refrigerators, ties and construction and demolition debris. Come to the hearing and let your views be known. Nothing is set in stone yet. Please look over the proposal and let us know how you feel and any suggestion you may have.

Saturday, Nov 6, the Waterford Firemen's Auxiliary will hold a supper. It will be from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Donation is $5. Dinner will include casseroles, rolls and dessert.

News from Mrs. Nieberle: Well Columbus Day weekend is over and so is the Fryeburg Fair. It was a beautiful, sunny weekend and then on Monday, Columbus Day, it became cold and windy. We had our children and grandchildren with friends come for a visit for the long weekend. Out to the garden they went to bring home their favorite pumpkin. In the farm stand a couple from London came to New England to see the foliage and the colors were awesome.
While waiting on a customer I heard a thump, and after looking out the door, noticed a lot of cars stopping and people walking toward a red car that had gone off Route 26 into the woods. The car snapped off two trees and they landed on the car. Soon State Troopers and an ambulance were on the scene. They took a woman to the hospital. Hopefully, she is fine. She was lying on the ground but was speaking.
Matt Cushman, wife Nancy, and two children went to their camp in Upton for the weekend. Matt was going bird hunting. Mr. Chase came in to say hello and tell me his daughter's house will be on the Dudley Road just before the log house the Johnsons lived in.
The Johnsons, by the way, just returned from seeing their daughter and her husband in California.
Yogi Dillingham, who is local, told me he had a heart valve replacement this past June.
The white line is now painted on the repaved section of Route 26.

For your information: Peter Lenz will be at the Whitman Memorial Library Tuesday, Nov. 9, at 10 a.m. Mr. Lenz is a noted history folklorist and will speak on local folklore. It will include an interview with the late Colista Morgan. He is the author of several history books, a two-volume collection on folklore, people and treasures in Maine. Everyone is invited to attend.
Tracy Poland and friends went on an ocean liner to Bermuda. It was quite a trip. Tracy said she was seasick for two days, but the worst part of the trip was a storm at sea that made the ship rock and waves broke some of the windows, and they were told to put on lifejackets. I asked her if she'd go again and she said, "sure."
Congrats to the Red Sox. I watched all their games in the World Series. They deserve it after 86 years trying. Very enjoyable to watch, I couldn't stop.
Thanks to Tommy Poland for the meatloaf she brought us for supper while I was laid up. Also, many thanks to our daughter Kellie, who kept us supplied with groceries.
Sympathy to the family and friends of Ora Ryerson who died this past week. I worked beside Ora for several years at would start making snow by Nov. 12. Brrr. But we started using our wood stove. Oct. 20 it was 26 degrees and you woke up to quite a frost.

Chris Collis' sister and husband came into the stand recently. She looks quite a lot like Chris and is in the nursing field at SAD44.

Camden Elliott-Williams, an Earlham College sophomore and son of Patricia Williams and J. Robert Elliott of Woodstock, performed in Earlham's Homecoming and Reunion Weekend Concert on Oct. 16 in Carpenter Hall's Goddard Auditorium. Camden is a member of the Concert Choir and Madrigal Singers.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. is prayer meeting. Thursday morning at 9 a.m. is Ladies Bible time. Sunday evening at church the members gave Vangie Keniston a beautiful flower arrangement and card for the many years she has been organist.

On Saturday, Nov. 6, Franklin Grange 124 will hold a mock Hee Haw show at the Grange Hall. It starts at 7 p.m. Come help support the Grange.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet today, Nov. 4, for a meeting, dinner and brown bag auction at the Grange Hall. The WHS Alumni will serve the dinner.

The WHS Alumni would like to thank the Nieberles for the squash they donated to the senior citizens dinner. This money goes for scholarships.

Please note that the monthly program at Whitman Memorial Library will be Tuesday, Nov. 9, instead of Thursday, Nov. 11, as usual. The program this month is Peter Lenz. He is a historian, folklorist and will speak on local folklore from information he got from Colista Morgan. He is a humorist, author of history books and is now working on a two-volume collection of folklore of Western Maine. Time is 10 a.m. at the library. Everyone welcome, no charge.

The Historical Society Museum looks fine now with fine furniture, glass, china and Woodstock photographs. Quilts also line the rafters.

The building is well organized by curator Larry Billings, who catalogues the exhibits as well. Society members are informed about the collections and share their knowledge with the public. They offer only the best. You will be astonished at the present exhibits and their quality. The meetings are held on the 2nd of each month at 7 p.m. Come see for yourself. The program for the Nov. 13 meeting will be on area antique shops, and Town Manager Vern Maxfield will be there to offer congratulations on their 25th anniversary. They plan to meet at the museum until after the December Christmas party, then January, February, March and possibly April they will meet at the Town Hall Conference Room. They welcome additions to their ranks. This will insure the society's future. President Mary Billings is going to work closely with her committees to achieve meaningful progress for the society. Curator Larry Billings has received a signed picture and letter from President Bush. He was very pleased.

I haven't a lot of news this week but some people get after me if I don't have any in, so here goes.

I have my bulbs into the ground thanks to Gerry Shimamura. It is a good thing I have great friends or nothing would get done. I haven't been able to get my back to cooperate since they took Vioxx off the market. I have a doctor's appointment in November and will have to discuss other options I guess. After Dr. Stuer's article on acupuncture maybe I ought to try that.

Allen Brown has moved in with his parents, Debbie and Owen Brown, for a while. He also brought his two cats with him. Owen's sister, Nancy Vargiu, and son, Ricky, from Sardinia, Italy, were coming Friday. Ricky came because he wants to vote in the presidential election, as he has dual citizenship. Now that should put some people to shame who think they can't be bothered to vote.

Gerry Shimamura also took me to Norway, Thursday, to get my flu shot and, after doing some shopping, treated me to a Yankee pot roast dinner at a local restaurant. It was very good and the meat was certainly plentiful. I brought some home to eat later and share a small bit with Princess and Jilly. It is hard to find something Jilly will eat. She is almost eighteen and thinks eating is a bore, but she certainly tore into that. How, I don't know, as she has very few teeth. I buy her soft food which she doesn't particularly like, and I soften the dry stuff, but she doesn't care much for that either. She is skeleton thin but is on thyroid medication for an overactive thyroid and that is supposedly what keeps her thin. I think she is just incredibly fussy.

I have decided I am not watching television until the elections are over. It was bad enough listening to the candidates telling half truths and negative comments, but when they showed a bear being shot, that was the last straw.

I recognize the need to control the animals but I don't want to be the one to do it, and I definitely don't want to watch anyone else do it, either; and, since I can't get the channel changed in time to stop the ad, I decided my life would go better without any television. It is bad enough that I have to listen to all this stuff on my answering machine that I don't want. I have yet to find a way to skip messages with this answering machine I have; so, in order to delete them I have to listen to them. I don't think it is working quite right but it is part of the portable phone system, so I can't change it. Needless to say, although I do not like to wish time away, I will be glad when the elections are over.

I still have a hard time realizing that the Red Sox won the World Series. So many times they have been denied that somehow one always expects they will be again. There certainly was some stunned people in the stands of both the Yankee/Red Sox game and the St. Louis/Red Sox game. To win eight games in a row is a phenomenal accomplishment for any team, much less the Red Sox. Next they will be trying to break the Patriots' record.

Andover

by Beanie Averill

Hello Andover readers. I would like to introduce myself as the new correspondent for the Bethel Citizen. For those of you who don't recognize my name, I also go under the pseudonym Beanie. If you have any news for me, I can be reached at 392-2941. I have an answering machine to take messages if I'm not home. I will be sending in my column on Sunday nights, so contact me by then for the news to get in for that week's paper.

I would like to send get-well wishes to George Wheeler of the South Arm Road, who returned home from the hospital last week.

Here it is Halloween night. I took my girls out trick or treating earlier. There seemed to be a lot of kids out this year, especially walking around the mile square. The houses on that route must have to invest in a lot of candy.

The Flu Clinic, scheduled for Nov. 19 in Andover, has been canceled. However, at-risk Andover residents can receive the necessary shot (on a first come, first served basis, as supplies are limited) at Woodstock Town Office on Friday, Nov. 5, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Welcome to the neighborhood Stella Madigan. She is the new addition to Peg and Joe's house.

Congratulations to Coach John Emery and the Andover soccer team. Last week, they played in a round robin at Telstar and won three games out of three. It was a nice ending to a good season.

Congratulations, also, to two young boys from Andover who play youth football for teams in Rumford and made it to the playoffs on Sunday — third-grader Hunter Gray and fifth-grader Izaak Mills.

Six deer were tagged on opening day at the tagging station. Two were tagged on Youth Day on Oct. 23.

Don't forget to wear orange when you're outside now that hunting has started.

I know that two families who live right in town have lost their cats in the past week (coyotes maybe?) so cat owners be cautious.

Good luck to Joan on her new venture. Who knows, we may be reading her columns in the Boston Globe soon. Andover is going to certainly miss you, Joan.

The Telstar High School field hockey team won the state title in their division on Saturday, Oct. 30. There are two Andover girls on the varsity team, Jessie Farrington and Kayla Mills. Nice job.

By the time you read this the elections will be over. Hopefully, everyone got out to vote.

Well that's it for this week. Feel free to call me with any news you may have at 392-2941. I hope to hear from lots of people.

From the

Whitman

Memorial Library

Peter Lenz of Norway will be the featured speaker at the Whitman Memorial Library in Bryant Pond on Tuesday, Nov. 9, at 10 a.m. The library will be closed on our regular meeting date because of Veterans Day.

Lenz is a well-known historian and folklorist. He will be speaking on local folklore, with much of his information gleaned from the late Colista Morgan of Greenwood. Lenz is the author and editor of history books and is currently working on a two-volume set on the folklore, people and treasures of Maine. He is also known for his sense of humor.

The program is open to the public and is free of charge. All are welcome to attend.

From the

Bethel Lions Club

The Bethel Lions were on the move this past week. Ed and Gert Friel stopped in and visited with Lion Howard Donahue at Ledgeview Nursing Home. He enjoys visits from not only the Lions, but from his friends and former colleagues. So, if you are driving past Ledgeview, stop in and say hi.

Lions Eldon and Ann Greenleaf traveled to Canaan, Vt., for a "Wild Game Dinner."

Second & Fourth Tuesday
at Crossroads
Diner

Also, Lion Clyde Nason traveled there as well. Both Eldon and Ann won door prizes.

We meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at Cross Roads Diner at 6:30 p.m. The Bethel Lions Club covers the SAD44 areas. For more information, please call Ed or Gert Friel at 824-2107.

We are still looking for public places to place small cans for "Dimes for Diabetes." Also, collection boxes for used eyeglasses and hearing aids. These two items can be recycled to benefit the less fortunate. For more information, please call Ed or Gert Friel at the above number. If you are in need of eyeglasses, please call Eldon Greenleaf at 824-2040.

From the

Bethel Philatelic Club

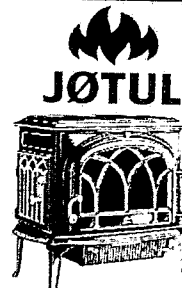

Six people gathered on Oct. 26 at the Robinson House, Bethel, to talk stamps.

One person brought in the 2005 Scott U.S. Specialist Catalog. It knocked everyone's eyes out with the bright colors it is printed in.

There were two albums for anyone to look at and two Linn's Stamp newspapers for anyone to take home with them, and a few flyers from stamp dealers for a look at.

There was much talk about the price of Hawaiian stamps — out of sight.

The club will meet on Nov. 30 at 2 p.m. at the Robinson House. If you are interested in collecting stamps, come join us.

From the

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

Meetings have been held every two weeks with a number of activities and plans for more.

The last supper/dance of the season was held in October with a good attendance and will continue in the spring.

Plans are for an initiation ceremony in the near future. Besides the newest members there are some others who have never been initiated. It would be helpful if they would contact the secretary, Olive Risko, so we can try to get everyone up to date.

The Post members are planning a Veterans Day observance on Nov. 11 at the hall to which the public is invited. The Unit will be providing doughnuts and coffee.

As in the past several years, the auxiliary is again taking orders for Christmas light bulbs for the three trees at the Legion grounds. Money realized will be used for various benefits to veterans — such as Christmas gift shops at Togus and the Veterans Home, birthday party at the Veterans Home, etc. For two dollars each anyone may purchase bulbs in memory of, or in honor of, a veteran and members of a veteran's family. Contact active members to contribute.

Two Legion members who recently passed away had wives who are members of the auxiliary. A contribution was made to Bethel Rescue in memory of Murry Cummings and another to the Telstar Scholarship Fund in memory of Harry Swan.

One of the newer members, Kelly Bickford, is now on duty in Iraq. She had been collecting comfort items to send to Iraq before she was called to active duty. They are still being collected at the Legion Hall where a list of appropriate items is available, and they will continue to be sent. Anyone who would like to contribute is invited to do so.

At the latest meeting, some students who attended Boys State and Girls State in June were invited to a dinner along with their parents, to report on their experiences at Maine Maritime Academy for the boys and Husson College for the girls. Ashley DeFlumiere and Meagan Bailey gave reports as to what their activities were and what they learned. August Reiss and Alex Helms also seemed to have enjoyed their experience and all had gained knowledge as to how government works.

Congratulations to the Telstar Girls field hockey team. Two of them are Junior members of the auxiliary — Meagan Bailey and Jillian Kimball.

Future meetings will be held on Nov. 4 and 18. It would be nice to have some who have not been attending come and participate. Others who are eligible for membership would be welcome.

From the

Mahoosuc Arts Council

Art Moves Dance Company and teen Art Moves Dance Group will be performing on Thursday, Nov. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in Bethel. Bingham Hall will be the setting as Gould Academy's Performing Arts Series presents an evening of variant dance and dancers under the artistic direction of Art Moves Dance Studio founder Debi Irons.

Art Moves Dance Company is comprised of professional dancers and choreographers who join together to collaborate, preview work, and to bring contemporary dance to Maine audiences on a regular basis. Art Moves Dance Group is a troupe of unique teens performing variant dances at schools and civic events.

The hour-and-fifteen-minute show includes variant dances by both groups. The teen troupe has new dances to the music of George Michael and Stereophonics along with old favorites like Church by Lyle Lovett and Moments by the Art of Noise. This year's troupe includes Charles Howes, Sasha Campbell, Christa Langbehn, Hannah Brown, Samantha Brown, Lorraine Gedat, Karen Kumaki, Erika Lindstrom and apprentices Elise Hodgdon, Sarah Lagasse, and Kelsey Doney.

Debi Irons is a professional dancer/choreographer with over 20 years' experience in all aspects of the dance world. She has created a method of dance education that encourages dancers to develop personal creativity and expression along with healthy, natural technique in variant dance forms. Irons is trained in modern, jazz, ballet, acrobatics, afro-Brazilian, street, tap, choreography, improvisation, and musical theatre dance. All are used in her teaching for a broad foundation.

Community members are cordially invited to attend. Ticket prices are $6, adults and $4, students and are available at the door. For more information, please call 824-3575.

From the

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Our 60,000 2005 Annual Guidebooks arrived last week. It was great to have a crew to help us unload. Many thanks to Western Maine Supply for the use of their forklift and to Susan Isham, Brad Jerome, Bob McCartney, Pete Rackliffe and Eric Schandelmeyer for handling all those cases.

The annual Business Meeting, held last week at the Bethel Inn and Country Club, was a great success. Many thanks to the Bethel Inn for the delicious meal and to Oxford Networks for hosting the social hour and for all the terrific promotional gifts. We elected three new members to the Board of Directors. They are: Ed Snook from the Bethel Citizen, Jordan Ginsberg from the Perennial Inn, and Fran Head from Main Street Realty. We recognized our outgoing board members as well. Many thanks to retiring members Jette Black, Alex Adler, Eric Schandelmeyer, Jim Largess and Don Murphy.

Mark your calendars for the November Community Networking Breakfast, scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 17, location to be determined and our monthly Business After Hours on Thursday, Nov. 18 at Pat's Pizza.

From the

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

During the recent presidential campaign, the roles of George Bush and John Kerry in relation to the Vietnam War became a lively topic. The year 2004 also marks the fortieth anniversary of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, which provided Congressional authorization for American involvement in Vietnam. In order to preserve some of the memories of the impact of that conflict upon the community and the nation, several veterans of the Vietnam War will be present on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, at the Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room for an oral history night where they will discuss their service. The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. There will also be an exhibit with items included from that era. Anyone interested in attending this special program is invited to do so. There is no admission charge.

The lecture originally scheduled at this time has been moved to the following week and will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 18 at the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room. Society Director Stanley R. Howe, who also serves as the Historian of the Maine State Grange, will discuss the history of Alder River Grange in East Bethel, which earlier this year observed its 100th anniversary of existence. Howe, a former master of Alder River, has served as treasurer of his Grange since 1978. Howe's book on the history of the Grange in Maine, "A Fair Field and No Favor: A Concise History of the Maine State Grange," was published in 1994. An exhibit of Grange memorabilia will also be open during the lecture. Anyone interested in attending this lecture is cordially invited to do so. There is no admission.

Two organ concerts will be scheduled, one in the spring and another in the fall, as soon as dates can be firmed up.

Sr. Monique Therriault, Arts Center administrator, said the total cost of these performances is over $15,000. She said a number of local organizations continue to support the center with their sponsorships and interested persons may contact her at the center for more information.

Local Sox fans celebrate

Red Sox fans here and across New England woke up to a new era last Thursday after Boston won the World Series for the first time in 86 years. Some celebrated at work, including (top left) Grayson Wakefield at Western Maine Supply and (top center) Shelly Corriveau, Colleen McCabe and Rod Royer at the Bethel Foodliner. At area schools (bottom), including Telstar and Crescent Park, staff and students showed up in Sox attire. And Amy Chapman and family put up a campaign sign (top right) for slugger David Ortiz. Small Business... not Small Banking

When starting out in business, you listen for suggestions. "If you listen to the right people, you end up making money," says Gary Gilman, who with his wife Patty, runs Gilman's Auto Service in Rumford.

The Gilmans found they got the right advice from Rich Allen and count on Franklin Savings Bank to keep up with the needs of their growing business. "They've been a great help. It's been really easy working with them and doing what I need to do," says Gary.

Franklin Savings Bank lenders Rich Allen and Dan Cummings chat with Gary Gilman of Gilman's Auto Service in Rumford.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU
EFFECTIVE MARKETING

You are feeling a little hysterical - your home has been listed for two weeks, and you have seen only one newspaper ad featuring it. Although your house is being shown regularly, you are wondering if the agent is doing enough.

Sellers often equate effective marketing with classified ads in the weekend Sunday real estate section, however, the most skilled Realtors know their market well enough to know where the prospective buyers for your home are likely to come from. They will look for the best ways to reach those people through direct mail, telephone contact or specialized ads in neighborhood publications. They will also work to get their colleagues excited about your house, especially agents who have many listings or sales in your neighborhood. And remember, it is important for you and your agent to communicate often so you will know exactly what is being done to sell your home.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Before Buying a Home!

Where do you start when you are ready to buy a home? Before you begin looking for a home, you have to make some decisions. You need to decide what is important to you when purchasing your home. Before starting out on your home search it is a good idea to sit down and develop a list of what is important and what would you like in your new home. Your list could include schools, neighborhood, amenities, number of bedrooms, number of baths, a basement, a separate dining room, 2-story family room or foyer, one level ranch plan, master bedroom on the main level, special financing, seller willing to cover closing costs and the list goes on and on.

An experienced buyer real estate agent can help you through the process. There is no such thing as a perfect house, therefore once you have developed your list you should begin to prioritize it. You can prioritize into, must have, should have and would be nice to have. By having a clear understanding what you want in your new home, and the priority of those items, you will be in a much better position to decide whether you want to put an offer on a house you see and like. It is also a good idea to consider whether you want to purchase a new or pre-owned home.
